FOLSOM RENOUNCES EPISCOPAL FAITH

Now Taking Part in Revival Meetings in Montreal--Second Visit of His Representative Here on Monday.

Mr. F. Ramey, in charge of one of the departments of the Y. M. C. A. at Montreal, made his second visit to this city on Monday as a representative of the Rev. Harold M. Folsom, the Episcopal clergyman. His previous visit was about four weeks ago. He had a conference with Col. John H. Bartlett, counsel for the young woman in the case and who still holds the criminal warrant against the former clergyman.

Neither Attorney Bartlett or Mr. Ramey would divulge much relative to what resulted from the meeting, but it is known that the gentleman from Montreal made but little headway in his appeal for a certain arrangement under which Mr. Folsom might return to this city and face everything.

Mr. Ramey is also said to have visited the home of Mrs. Folsom at Biddeford where he met Mrs. Folsom and her mother, his presence there being for the same purpose that brought him to Portsmouth.

The latest chapter in the case is the renunciation made by the former rector of St. John's church against the Episcopal faith.

He has for the past month or more been leading in largely attended revival meetings in the Canadian city where he pleads as a penitent and pictures his life in the faith he now renounces.

ANOTHER EARTHQUAKE SHOCK FELT IN ITALY

Heavy Damage in Towns With a Population of 20,000, Probably Followed By Further Loss of Life

Rescue Work Continues and Huts Being Built For Temporary Housing of Homeless

(Special to The Herald)
Rome, Jan. 19.—A violent earthquake occurred early today at Cosense, a town of more than 20,000 inhabitants, in Calabria, only 12 miles from the Mediterranean Sea. The shock was also perceptible at Spezzano, Castiglione and Aprigliano, according to dispatches received from Basignano.

Heavy damage occurred in the province of Conenza, but reports received up to noon gave no definite details of any loss of life, although rumors state that a number of persons had perished.

The uninjured people in the earthquake zone are gradually regaining their composure and are lending their aid to the soldiers and volunteer workers in an effort to ameliorate the terrible conditions that prevail in the ruined towns. Food and clothing are arriving in the stricken districts and the starving inhabitants are being fed, while huts are being rapidly built for the temporary housing of the homeless. Work in the ruins is being carried on as fast as possible and many persons were rescued alive today in numerous towns from the debris of fallen buildings who had been without food for six days. Nineteen persons were taken alive from ruins in Avezzano, six of them uninjured and this encouraged the rescuers to further efforts.

Members of the Royal family, high officials and leading legislators are busily engaged in relief work. Thomas Nelson Page, the American ambassador, was among those who went to the earthquake region yesterday to aid in the distribution of relief stores.

Queen Helena sent a train load of foodstuffs, clothing and medical supplies to the people of the ruined towns. The Pope has sent aid to all the bishops of the diocese in the quake zone, a fund of $4,000,000 having been received by him thus far.

In Avezzano all the dogs have been ordered killed to prevent them prowling among the dead. At several places wolves attracted by the smell of human flesh, have come down from the mountains and in some instances are so vicious as to attack automobilists.

passing along the roads. Hunting parties have been formed to exterminate them.

It is still impossible to accurately estimate the number of dead resulting from the destruction nor the monetary loss. One official estimate places the loss at $60,000,000.

Rome, Jan. 19.—Today's earthquake shock was particularly severe at Luzzi, 11 miles northeast of Conenza. Many houses were leveled there, and a number of the inhabitants were buried in the ruins of their homes. Luzzi has a population of 3000, and the inhabitants were panic stricken.

Rome, Jan. 19.—After a 16-hour automobile ride through the earthquake zone, King Victor Emmanuel returned to Rome early today, bringing with him in his motor car, six little orphans whom he found being cared for by soldiers at Avezzano. The little refugees were turned over to the officials of one of the local hospitals, and will be educated at the King's expense.

PARIS MAY BE UNDER BOMBARDMENT
(Special to The Herald)
Copenhagen, Jan. 19.—Private reports received here from Berlin state that Zepplin airships were in operation over Paris yesterday. An aerial bombardment of the city is said to have begun.

TURKISH CRUISER DAMAGED
(Special to The Herald)
Constantinople, by way of Berlin and Amsterdam, Jan. 19.—The cruiser Sultan Selim, formerly the Golden, is reported to have been struck by a torpedo in the Bosphorus and is so badly damaged that no repairs can be made. No official confirmation of this report has been received as yet.

GREAT BRITAIN NOTIFIES U. S.
Former Hamburg-American Liner Dacia May Be Seized.
(Special to The Herald)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 19.—The British government today notified the state department that it would not waive the right of seizure in the case of the former Hamburg-American liner Dacia. Great Britain also refused the request that the vessel be permitted to make one voyage with cargo from the United States to Germany, without the voyage being considered a precedent to establish the right of German ships to be transferred to the American flag.

JOHN W. PLUMMER NOMINATED FOR STATE TREASURER

Receives 160 Votes Against E. Percy Stoddard's 62--Other Nominations.

(Special to The Herald)
The Republican caucus held today at Concord resulted in the nomination of John Wesley Plummer, the present acting state treasurer, for state treasurer. There were five candidates in the field for this office and each of them put up a strong fight. Mr. E. Percy Stoddard of this city was one of the candidates, and in the vote for nomination he was second in the list. The total vote cast was 260, making 131 votes necessary for choice. Charles W. Fletcher of Rindge received 3; Dana W. Baker of Exeter, 14; William E. Spalding of Nashua, 21; E. Percy Stoddard of Portsmouth, 62; John Wesley Plummer of Concord, 160. Edward N. Pearson was unanimously nominated secretary of state, and Herbert E. Tully of Claremont was nominated commissary general. The Republican majority is so strong in the Legislature this year the nominations are practically equivalent to an election.

Lime Treatment in Tuberculosis

In the May 25, 1912, issue of the Journal of the American Medical Association, appeared this statement concerning calcium (lime) treatment in the treatment of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption): "Under the systematic, continued and persistent regime of calcium assimilation, Van Gieson has seen a number of his patients improve, undergo an excretion or purgative consolidation in the lung, which then resolving would appear to contribute to the healing of the disease. Hand in hand with this course of events, the sputum clears up of tubercle bacilli, which finally disappear, and the patient is discharged with healed pulmonary tuberculosis."

Since calcium is a constituent of this remedy for pulmonary tuberculosis and allied throat and bronchial affections, its healing power may in some measure be attributed to the manner in which this element is so easily assimilated by the average person and it does not irritate the stomach.

Frank L. Woodward, New President of Golf Association, Would Allow Amateurs to Write for Newspapers

FRANK L. WOODWARD

New York, Jan. 17.—Frank L. Woodward of Denver, the new president of the United States Golf Association, believes that amateur golfers should be permitted to write for newspapers and magazines without sacrificing their amateur standing, and he favors a liberal interpretation of the rules so that amateurs may add the game by their literary efforts. At the annual meeting here Mr. Woodward went on record as favoring abolition for writing about golf, constructing or designing golf courses for remuneration, and even went so far as to recommend that clubs ought to be able to employ their own members in any capacity, the amateur status of the member depending entirely on how the club viewed the matter. However, in formulating this view, the club must keep in mind the restrictions outlined in rule 7 by by-laws. Mr. Woodward urged that rules in all parts of the golf world be kept in uniformity.

The efforts of a German proprietor of a hotel in the Catskill mountains to arrange a match between an Englishman and an American in the belief that he is a wealthy society leader from the theme of force into which has been woven an interesting love story. A composer, Mr. Roger O'Malley, and a friend, who is a poet, have gone considerably in arrears for board and lodging when Madam Pom Pom, of grace and beauty and with imperious airs, arrives with her model maid, Elaine, Herr Landford sees in this timely arrival an admirable solution to his financial difficulty by marrying his titled debtor to Madam.

The authors have built along the lines that amusement seekers demand this season, and there is nothing but laughter, song, dance and cheer in the dialogue and the fifteen musical numbers that have been written into the farce.

COWLES DIVORCE SUIT MAY BE CONTESTED

It is very probable that the divorce suit of Mrs. Cowles against her husband, Dr. Edward S. Cowles, which is returnable at the January term of court which comes in at Exeter today, will be contested.

Dr. Cowles who is still confined to his room on account of his injuries received at the railroad station last week, has engaged Eastman, Seaman and Gardner of Exeter and they will enter an appearance for him when the case is called in the docket reading today.

It is understood that an effort has been made on the part of Dr. Cowles to have a conference with his wife, but it has been unsuccessful. Dr. Cowles refused to talk about the case, but it is understood that counter charges will be brought by him, and the case thrashed out before a jury. County Solicitor Capt. Hill, counsel for Mrs. Cowles, is going ahead with this session of court.

VILLA ON THE WAY TO MEXICO CITY

El Paso, Tex., Jan. 18.—Gen. Villa, City in an attempt to adjust the situation of the main group of his army, is expected to return today to Mexico.

the capital of Bulacio Gutierrez, the provisional President, and the appointment to that place of Roque Gonzalez Garza.

Mexico City was reported in a condition of disorder and excitement, approaching that which attended the Diaz-Huerta uprising against the Maderista Government in 1912.

Gen. Angeles, the Villa commander who, yesterday occupied Monterey, has appealed for the immediate sending there of American Red Cross supplies, contracted for some weeks ago, by Philip C. Hanna, the American Consul General. Gen. Angeles described as desperate the condition of the populace at Monterey.

Angeles probably will proceed at once to Mexico City to assist Villa in his adjustment of conditions there, Villa abandoning temporarily, at least the campaign against the Carranza forces. Angeles has been mentioned prominently as a possible successor to Gutierrez.

Roque Gonzalez Garza, it is understood, was appointed only temporarily Troops Marched on Either Side of the Boundary.

Douglas, Ariz., Jan. 18.—A squadron of the 9th United States Cavalry, under Maj. Dade, which came from Naco abreast of the troops across the Mexican border of Gen. Calles, who evacuated Naco, Sonora, yesterday, arrived here last night.

The Mexican troops were not expected to enter Agua Prieta until today.

THAW WILL BE RETURNED THIS WEEK

New York, Jan. 18.—Harry K. Thaw may be back in New York before Thursday night.

Then again he may not. If present plans do not miscarry, William T. Jerome will obtain tomorrow a certified order from the United States Supreme Court, directing United States Marshal O'Neill of New Hampshire, to turn Thaw over to Sheriff Hornbeck of Dutchess County, New York.

Hornbeck, Jerome and several other lives plan to seize Thaw in his Manchester, N. H., cottage early Wednesday and rush him to New York.

Thaw's plans to avoid being returned are not known. It is believed his attorneys may try to obtain writs in the states through which he must pass on his return to New York.

To reduce the chances of complications Jerome plans to motor across Vermont to the New York state line, avoiding passing through Massachusetts.

Bankers May Make Plans to Help Out Boston & Maine.

The scheme for Boston and Maine reorganization as proposed in financial circles, it is said for the formation of a new corporation to take over the companies now included in the present system.

All these companies will be asked to subscribe to their proportionate parts of the stock of the new corporation, in lieu of their existing contracts with the Boston and Maine.

The basis on which shares will be offered to these subsidiary lines will depend on the earning power of these companies.

It is generally believed in "the street" in Boston that unless this scheme of organization goes through, the Boston and Maine will be in a receiver's hands by March 1.

Fair Play for Railroads.

While not unmindful of the fact that some of the railroads have been guilty of abuses that ought to be checked, and many of which have been brought to an end, this paper is convinced, as it has made plain on numerous occasions, that so-called "regulation" has in many instances been carried to an extreme that amounted to oppression. No fair-minded man desires action of this sort and there is consequently a general feeling of satisfaction in the knowledge that public sentiment has undergone a change which means from this time on fair and reasonable treatment of the railroad systems of the country.

The change in the attitude of the public toward the railroads is well illustrated by an address delivered in New York a few evenings ago by Secretary Redfield of the department of commerce. "Too long in my judgment," he said, "have the railroads, our largest employers and our largest buyers, been cramped within too narrow limits of income. I earnestly hope that for them the dawn of a better day has come, one of more general public appreciation of their valuable services to the nation, and of the remarkable efficiency with which, upon the whole, they perform that service." Mr. Redfield went on to point out the wide distribution of railroad stocks, showing that they are the property of the people to a much greater extent than is commonly supposed, and spoke of one road that has 100,000 shareholders, the average holding being small.

The fact that the railroads do perform their services efficiently, on the whole, and that their interests are not separate from those of the general public, but are completely bound up with them, has been lost sight of by many in their frenzied efforts to "bring the companies to time," and it is well that the possibility of overdoing a good thing has at last dawned upon the public mind. This paper does not take the position that there have never been wrongs in railroad management and that there are none today, but it does contend that regulation should be just to all concerned, and that the railroads have as much right to proper protection as the public has. Fortunately, this view is becoming more general than it has been in the last few years and the result is bound to be better conditions for the railroads of the country and the business of the country.

The civil service is proving troublesome in the field of fourth-class postoffices. There are more than 500 appointments to be made to offices paying $500 a year or more, but last year no one passed the examination and so the incumbents are holding over. A year's time for preparation ought to enable some of the aspirants to squeeze through when the next examination is held in February.

The desperation of the unemployment situation is illustrated by a New England city in which some of the men to whom work cards were issued were so hard pressed that they could not wait to do the work to which they were assigned, but sold their cards to men who were willing to buy jobs. Without doubt there is some suffering in the big cities; as there is every winter, but there is much to indicate that the unemployment hullabaloo is being overworked.

The best news that has come from South Carolina lately is that Governor Blease has resigned. It is intimated that he feared impeachment. Whether this is so or not, he is down and out and the people of South Carolina and the country are glad of it. He did not neglect, however, to grant another batch of pardons before retiring, the list of the pardoned including a number of murderers.

It is announced from Washington that the "drys" are to make themselves felt in the next national conventions, and that they "intend to insist that the Democratic and Republican nominees for president must be unequivocally for prohibition." This is a somewhat ambitious program, and to carry it out something more may be necessary than to "intend to insist."

The women of Boston are to "mobilize" in the interest of world peace. The Boston "tea party" was all right, of course, but other nations have no right to settle their differences with arms. And still the war goes on.

The intimation from Washington that the President's fight with the Senate over the matter of patronage may lead to impeachment proceedings comes properly under the head of pure rot.

WHAT BOARD RECOMMENDS

Want Wayward Children Placed in Home by Court.

The tenth biennial report of the New Hampshire State Board of Charities and Corrections for the period ending August 31, 1914, has been published and distributed among the members of the legislature.

The summary of the recommendations of the board to the legislature is as follows:

The State Board of Charities and Corrections recommends:

1. That the state provide for the placing out in family homes and subsequent supervision of dependent minor children.

2. That the juvenile court law be so amended as to provide that in all cases brought before the court on petition, where the facts alleged in the petition are found to be true, the court may forthwith place the child in some suitable home or institution and all necessary expenses for its care in such home or institution shall be borne by the county.

3. That funds be provided for a probation officer who shall assist the superintendent of the industrial school in placing paroled pupils in suitable homes and who shall also exercise supervision over the pupils after placed.

4. That the policy of the state in segregating its feeble-minded girls and women of child-bearing age be continued and further provision be made for their care at the School for Feeble-Minded at Exeter.

5. That the policy of the state in appropriating funds for the aid of indigent tuberculous persons, especially those in advanced stages, be continued.

6. That authority be given the warden of the state prison, with the consent of the governor and council, to employ such prisoners as he may deem wise, in work on any land belonging to the state or on the state highways; also that a state reformatory or reformatory be established for the custody of prisoners committed for minor offenses.

7. That the policy of the state in appropriating funds for the aid of the adult blind be continued.

8. That the state make an appropriation for the treatment of indigent crippled and tuberculous children.

FIRST POLICE TO RETIRE ON PENSION

Randall S. Bean and Florence Sullivan, two Manchester police officers, have been retired by the commissioners of that city on pensions. The former has served 41 years and the latter 30 years as patrolmen.

These are the first retirements on pensions ever made in the police department, although there has been a pension law in force for several years. There is one pensioned fireman, so that altogether the city now has three men on pensions.

Patrolman Bean was elected to the force April 16, 1874 and served continuously since with the exception of a week between January 5 and 13 in 1884. He was retired at his own request.

Patrolman Sullivan was elected in June 1885 and served continuously since with the exception of nearly a year from January to December in 1890. He was retired at the request of Police Chief Michael J. Healey. The pensions to be received by these men amount to one-half the pay they have been getting as active patrolmen.

PLEADS NOT GUILTY TO SENDING POISON

Mrs. Mansfield Held for Grand Jury in April.

Keene, N. H., Jan. 18.—Mrs. Effie Merryfield pleaded not guilty to sending a box of poisoned candy to Niles Howe of Troy before Judge Platts in the Troy district court today. She was bound over to the April term of superior court and will probably remain in jail until that time, no bail being fixed by the court. She was brought back to the local jail.

It is alleged that jealousy of the Howe family was the motive for sending the poisoned candy. It was said that there were about three grains of arsenic in nine pieces of the candy in the box.

The defendant was represented by Joseph Madden, while County Attorney O. E. Cain was assisted at the hearing by Charles Madden.

Mrs. Merryfield is about 40 years old. She is married and has three children.

Get What You Ask For.

A piece of glass may feel like a dollar in the dark. But it loses its value when you turn the light on it. The article some dealers tell you is "just as good" as the advertised brand you ask for, is the glass dollar of commerce. It usually shrinks in value in the day light. Reputable dealers never offer substitutes. Careful buyers never accept them and avoid the stores that show inclination towards the substitution practice.

DOCTORS OPPOSE REPEAL OF LAW

Physicians Claim Compulsory Vaccination Only Way to Prevent Smallpox.

Representative Sanders of Derry has introduced in the House at Concord a bill to repeal the law in relation to the compulsory vaccination of school children. There has been several attempts in the past to repeal the law, but the bills have always been hard fought and usually have met their death in the committee. At the present time there appears to be a question in regard to the action that the committee may take in relation to the bill. The bill is as follows:

House Bill No. 37, introduced by Mr. Sanders of Derry. An Act to repeal Section 2, Chapter 93 of the Public Statutes relating to the compulsory vaccination of school children.

Section 1. That Section 2, Chapter 93 of the Public Statutes and all of the amendments thereto relating to the compulsory vaccination of school children is hereby repealed.

Section 2. This act shall take effect on its passage. The bill has been referred to the Committee on Public Health.

Physicians throughout the state will make a strong fight against the repeal of this law, some physicians going so far as to state that it might result in a state-wide epidemic of smallpox.

Dr. Jenkins of this city states that he is very much opposed to the repeal of this law. He said in part: "I believe thoroughly in compulsory vaccination and I believe it is the only way to prevent smallpox. In Cuba, where smallpox was a yearly epidemic, vaccination has completely stamped out the disease."

Dr. Eastman said: "I think it will be a very silly move on the part of the legislature to repeal this law. You can quote me as very strongly opposed to the bill. I believe compulsory vaccination the only way to prevent smallpox. I vaccinate myself every year and have no fear of attending a smallpox patient, but if I was not thoroughly vaccinated, I wouldn't go within ten miles of a case. In 1885 the city of Montreal went through an epidemic of smallpox among the large unprotected French population. In nine months, 2164 persons died from the disease."

Dr. Oster, the most famous physician in the world probably, stated that the epidemic would not have happened if these people had been vaccinated. Dr. Taylor said: "The repeal of the law compelling school children to be vaccinated would undoubtedly result in an epidemic of smallpox."

Dr. Heffenger evidently thought the matter too one-sided to require any discussion. He said: "I think the repeal of this law would be a step back into the dark ages."

THREATENS TO TAKE HIS LIFE

Former Colored Resident of This City Makes Threat, But Gets Cold Feet.

Once more William Roundtree, a well known colored man, and former resident of this city, is again in the limelight in Newburyport. While riding on a Haverhill car in West Newbury, Monday noon, Roundtree jumped from the car with a threat to take his life, and disappeared in the woods nearby. Later in the day he was seen about the streets of Newburyport, apparently having changed his mind.

He carried a revolver with him, according to the story told by the conductor in charge of the car, and announced his intention of "doing away with himself," to the conductor before he left the car.

When the 12 o'clock car left Haverhill, Roundtree was one of the few passengers. When the car arrived in West Newbury he arose from his seat and commanded the conductor to bring the car to a stop. His orders were not given in a hoarse tone and few of the passengers heard the conversation that followed. When he ordered the car stopped, he was informed that the next while pole was some distance away and the conductor signalled with one bell.

Roundtree stepped into the rear vestibule and said to the conductor "I am sick and tired of all this, so I guess I will do away with myself."

With this threat he lifted his coat and the shining barrel of a revolver startled the conductor. Roundtree then jumped to the ground and walked to the woods nearby.

The conductor then told W. F. Woodman, manager of the Bay State line, who was a passenger on the car, of what had happened. Newburyport residents were also aboard and listened with much interest to the conversation that took place.

A 2 o'clock however, Roundtree was seen walking down Charter street, and just what his purpose was in making the threat is yet to be learned.

CURRENT OPINION

Maximum of Patriotism to Be Found in the Middle States.

Americans might well take to heart the lesson in patriotism now being put forward by the contending powers of Europe. Have we its equal in this country? I doubt it.

If it is to be found any place it is in the middle West, and that is because it is built on a love of community. I believe that the maximum of patriotism in the United States is to be found in the States of the middle West and the minimum in the city of Washington.

Let me impress upon you a few of the great virtues of several of the countries engaged in the war. Take the marvelous efficiency, military and civil, that is shown by Germany. It is a thoroughness that goes to the bottom. Consider the charm that is presented by France, both in literature and general culture. Its clarity, its beauty, bring you within the realm of imagination. And what is life without imagination? Why, without imagination even the daily war news you read in the papers means very little—a touch of brilliancy perhaps—but with imagination present then all war's sorrow and horror is brought home.

Do not be simply a professional man. Be an active member of society in its broader phases. What you do, do with the thoroughness of the Germans, accompany it with the charm of the French and the patriotism of the middle class Russians.—By Rear Admiral Charles H. Stockton, President George Washington University.

During the residence of the Roundtrees in this city, the entire family was continually before the public eye, and kept the local police on the jump for one thing and another.

THE DOG.

I've never known a dog to wag his tail in glee he didn't feel. Nor quit his old-time friend to tag at some more influential heel. The yellowest ear I ever knew Was, to the boy who loved him, true.

I've never known a dog to show Half-way devotion to his friend, To seek a kinder man to know, Or richer, but unto the end. The humblest dog I ever knew Was, to the man that loved him, true.

I've never known a dog to fake Affection for a present gain, A false display of love to make Some little favor to attain.

I've never known a Prince or Spot That seemed to be what he was not.

But I've known a dog to fight With all his strength to shield his friend, And whether wrong, or whether right, To stick with him unto the end. And I have known a dog to lick The hand of him that men would kick.

And I have known a dog to hear Starvation's pangs from day to day With him who had been glad to share His bread and meat along the way. No dog, however mean or rude, Is guilty of ingratitude.

The dog is listed with the dumb, No voice has he to speak his creed. His message to humans come By faithful conduct and by deed. He shows, as seldom mortals do, A high ideal of being true.

DOCTOR TURNER SURRENDERS

Appears at Headquarters and Furnishes $7500 Bail.

Dr. Augustus W. Turner, aged 59, of 362 Massachusetts avenue, Boston, surrendered himself last night at police headquarters to Inspector George Patterson, having heard that he was wanted on an indictment warrant charging him with having performed an illegal operation on Miss Irene A. Richardson, daughter of George M. Richardson, town auditor of Arlington.

Miss Richardson made her home with her parents at 34 Kimball road, Arlington. She died Jan. 7.

Turner appeared at headquarters shortly after 10.30. He came in an automobile, accompanied by his counsel, P. J. Walsh, and his bondsman, Michael Nazario. Bonds were furnished in the sum of $7500 and after the papers were made out Turner was released, to appear this morning in the Superior Criminal Court to plead to the indictment.

Other persons arrested in connection with the death of the young woman have been discharged by the court.

In December, 1900, while living at 161 West Springfield street, he was arrested charged with aiding Mrs. Jane E. Bishop in performing a number of operations. Mrs. Bishop had been arrested two months earlier and was then out on $10,000 bail awaiting trial in the Superior Court.

There were 81 counts in the indictment, relating to 14 separate transactions, and the trial of Mrs. Bishop and Dr. Turner, who were accused jointly and severally, was considered the most important of its kind in this state.

Dr. Turner was acquitted June 24, 1901, by a jury in the Superior Court, by order of Judge Bishop.

TOLL BRIDGE LEGISLATION IS TO THE FORE

Report of Commission in the Hands of Gov. Spaulding, Who Sends Special Message to Legislature.

Governor Spaulding sent a special message to the Legislature Monday accompanying a bill which aims to make free the eight toll bridges over the Connecticut river between Vermont and New Hampshire. The bill provides for a bridge commission to co-operate with a similar Vermont commission. The last Legislature of Vermont appropriated $10,000 a year toward the abolishment of toll bridges. Former Governor Pelletier appointed a

RESULTS THAT REMAIN

Are Appreciated By Portsmouth People.

Thousands who suffer from backache and kidney complaint have tried one remedy after another, finding only temporary benefit. This is discouraging, but there is one kidney medicine that has earned a reputation for lasting results and there is plenty of proof of its merit right here in Portsmouth.

Here is the testimony of one who used Doan's Kidney Pills years ago, and now makes his testimony even stronger.

Mrs. Arthur M. Morrison, 59 Gate St., Portsmouth, says: "I had pains in my back and sides. My kidneys were weak and often I had nervous and dizzy spells. I saw Doan's Kidney Pills advertised and used some. It wasn't long before they completely cured me. The cure has been permanent. You may continue publishing the endorsement I gave Doan's Kidney Pills before."

boundary commission consisting of Judge William M. Chase, and J. H. Albin of Concord, and U. S. Marshal Charles J. O'Neill of Watpole. The New Hampshire commission purposes to purchase the eight bridges where tolls are now collected, if they can be bought for a reasonable price, otherwise the right of eminent domain is suggested.

The report of the commission closes as follows: "The Vermont commission is disposed to deal fairly with New Hampshire in reference to freeing the toll bridges over the Connecticut river, but no one representing New Hampshire has authority to act in the matter. Respectfully submitted, 'WILLIAM M. CHASE, 'J. H. ALBIN, 'CHARLES J. O'NEILL."

If Governor Spaulding will now instruct the commission to proceed in a like manner relative to the toll bridges about this city, the Dover and Elliot bridge, the state of Maine may act in the same manner as Vermont.

Toll bridges should be abolished. They are a relic of a past age and in states like the New England states, which pride themselves on the good conditions of their roads, this objectionable feature of interstate traffic should be done away with.

SET BACK AS FIREMEN

Many Engineers Affected by Economy Move on Railroad.

It is estimated that over 100 locomotive engineers on the Fitchburg and Portland divisions of the Boston and Maine railroad have been set back as firemen owing to the lack of freight business and curtailment on the system. Engineers who are known to have been running four and five years are among those affected, some of them being compelled to shovel coal on night switching engines in station yards. The bad feature of this is the dropping of so many firemen who have been employed for years and who were about ready to be promoted. So far only two engineers at Portsmouth were set back, and one now firing on Boston trains.

YOUNG JASPER HERE FOR HIS MATCH

Jasper is an Italian by birth, but came to this country when a child and he learned the boxing game around newspaper row in Boston.

K. O. Stambur of the U. S. S. Leonidas appeared in a boxing bout at Dover on Monday evening.

"Belgian" Brown, who was scheduled to box in Somersworth on Monday evening, was here on Monday and while here was taken ill and had to cancel his engagement.

JAPANESE MAY FIGHT WITH THE ALLIES

Paris, Jan. 18.—The Japanese "for-lin legion," now being raised voluntarily in Japan to re-enforce France in the fighting line, will be welcome. For the first time official acknowledgment is made that raising of a volunteer force of the "little men" to render their services as Lafayette did in the American revolution, will solve the Japanese problem. Official participation by the regular Japanese army, under their regular officers and in every way on the same basis as the British, French and Belgians, might result in a serious complication. They might have to be paid and Japan would be in position to claim much of the credit for victory, should her sons aid in the final crushing of the German empire.

Great General May Come

But with the foreign legion coming at least one objection would be solved. These men are reported to be picked veterans of the Russo-Japanese war. They are to be equipped as few Japanese troops ever have been. It is rumored here that at their head will come one of Japan's greatest generals, a man whose name will mean much to the allies.

Not only will the foreign legion fight on French soil, but it is expected the Japanese government will finally enter the war in the west as an active ally of Russia and England. There is said to be a growing sentiment in England to ask Japan to take over the protection of Egypt and India, thus releasing for active service against Germany the many British regiments now held idle in these two countries. Russia is said to have suggested that she would welcome an alliance which would permit the Japanese to take a position with the Russians on the fighting line in East Prussia, in Galicia, in Hungary and elsewhere along the lines of battle front extending across the continent of Europe.

Could Pay for Services
England and Russia could easily pay Japan for this work. In case of victory—and every expert here agrees that Japan can clinch the victory—that nation would get her share of the compensations. In discussing this, Lucien Millevoye of La Patrie, after declaring that suggestions of Japanese aid must not be considered a confession of weakness says:

"France, alert, strong, with an already victorious sword in her hand, implores no one. She simply says to a strong people, armed just as she is, armed in the defense of justice. Do you wish your part of the glory? Then take it."

German Repulsed with Heavy Loss Near Antwerp

Paris, Jan. 18.—Two German assaults in force near Antwerp, northeast of Ypres-sur-Aisne, have been repulsed by the French with heavy loss, according to reports received here today. The fighting there continues, with the Germans still trying to gain a foothold on the French positions. The Germans have also attacked Crest 262 in the Argonne region, but have been defeated with heavy loss. They charged the French position only to be met by a heavy artillery fire which killed and wounded many, while the French losses are declared to be inconsiderable.

The French are pushing their offensive in the Lepretre woods northwest of Pont-a-Mousson and have captured several of the German outlying positions here. There is said to be very heavy snow in the Vosges and in Alsace, but despite this handicap the Germans have bombarded Thann. Little damage is reported there and the French are maintaining their positions.

From the North sea to the Oise heavy cannonading continues, with the heavy artillery of each side wiping out the houses and towns at several points. A violent wind and rain storm has swept over the entire northern battlefield, adding to the discomforts of the armies. Entire lines of trenches have been filled with water, the troops having to withdraw from them to avoid being drowned. The storm has made impossible any attempted offensive by the Germans for several days in this section.

In Flanders the Germans continue to reform their lines. So far the threatened assaults in force have been withheld. Instead, the artillery continues its monotonous exchange, leveling once prosperous hamlets and farmhouses. This is especially so in the region of Kleppert, La Bassée, Ypres and Arras, where each side has vainly attempted a forward movement only to have it checked by a deadly artillery fire.

Fighting for the trenches and foundry buildings in the vicinity of Blangy, east of Arras, continues with varying result. The Germans first took the foundry, lost it to a general assault, then turned and captured it, and were for the second time dislodged. There have been heavy losses at this point. Snow Helps Russians Win Caucasus Victory

Petrograd, Jan. 18.—A late communication from the army of the Caucasus gives some details of the Russian victory at Kara-Urgan. It says:

"During the last three days of the battle of Kara-Urgan, a violent snow storm raged uninterruptedly. The conflict terminating in a complete victory for our arms."

"Thanks to the efforts of our valiant Caucasian and Turkestan regiments, as well as the Siberian Cossacks, the resistance of the enemy was broken up. The rear guards, which covered his retreat, were destroyed, and the remainder of the Turkish army, hard pressed on flank and front, fled toward Erzerum."

"Our troops, pursuing, found in the ravines parts of Turkish cannon, which the fleeing enemy, unable to remove through the snow, had precipitated from the heights. The pursuit continues."

Russians Holding Against the Main German Column

Petrograd, Jan. 18.—Despite fearful weather conditions, severe fighting was today reported north of the Vistula, where the new Russian movement is progressing rapidly, and south of the river, where the Germans are endeavoring to continue their progress toward Warsaw. The northern force has advanced nearly a mile from the village of Budy-Sukowista, which was taken Saturday in a bayonet charge. Against the main German column, it is declared, the Russians are holding their own, although they were compelled to evacuate one of their chief lines of front trenches which had been almost completely destroyed by the German bombs.

Artillery exchanges are taking place along the Donajec river positions held by the Austrians and renewed activity is reported in the Carpathians and in lower Bukovina.

The fighting in the Caucasus, near Kara-Urgan, is slackening, the Turks having had three complete corps practically annihilated since the Russian Caucasian army resumed the offensive.

NEW HAMPSHIRE COLLEGE NOTES

New Hampshire College, Durham, N. H., Jan. 18.—While indoor track work is well under way here, the management has already completed the outdoor schedule for the spring. A. J. Grant of Dover, manager, announces that the first event here will be a dual meet with Bates, May 1. The annual interscholastic meet will be held in Durham as usual this year and more schools than ever before are expected to send teams. The date for this event is May 2.

New Hampshire will send a strong team to Burlington this year to meet Vermont. Vermont won last year, but by so close a score as to indicate that the two schools are about evenly matched as to field and track material. The season will close here June 5 with a dual meet with New Hampshire's ancient rival, Rhode Island.

B. H. Clark of Manchester, captain of the team, is confident of a successful season.

Candidates for the relay team are now heard at work and from them will be picked a team to meet Ver-

"The Manchester Game," the big football game of the year, will not be for a New Hampshire College team next fall. G. W. Chase of Londonderry, manager of the team this year, announces that the game has been abandoned. In years past New Hampshire met the Massachusetts Aggies in Manchester for the big game of the year and the entire student body attended. Last year Rhode Island was played there. Financially the contest was not a success.

The schedule which Captain Westover, who by the way comes from Manchester, has prepared for him is as follows:

September 25—Bowdoin at Brunswick.
October 2—Open.
October 9—Connecticut Agricultural College at Durham.
October 16—States at Durham.
October 23—Middlebury at Middlebury.

REAR ADMIRAL MACKENZIE

Rear Admiral Morris R. S. Mackenzie, retired, has died at his home in Morristown, N. J. His health had been failing for a year, but he did not become seriously ill until within the last few days. He was born in New York sixty-six years ago and was graduated from the United States Naval Academy, in 1886, having been appointed to that place from New Jersey. He later rose in service through several promotions until he reached the rank of rear admiral in 1905. His duties had been various and at several stations, including commander of the Pacific, 1898 to 1900, on the U. S. S. New York, in 1901, and at the Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H., 1903 and he was inspector in charge of the third lighthouse district in 1905. He retired June 28, 1906.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, try a 25 cent bottle of Knawell's Danderine at any drug store or local counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of whether else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knawell's Danderine. If eventually why not now?

BOSTON LETTER

Boston, Jan. 19.—The plan of a University Extension System, which has recently been proposed by Governor Walsh, is the direct result of his visit to the University of Wisconsin last year. This plan and the different courses proposed were gathered by the Governor through his careful scrutiny of the work and systems at Wisconsin. Governor Walsh stated that he considered the system there the most perfect that we have. The Extension system at Wisconsin is being used by about 6000 students who would not otherwise be able to obtain their education. These people are obtaining vocational training from the most experienced professors, and by this means are making themselves more useful and better citizens. The reference library is another great feature of this system. In this library are books dealing with all the subjects that are taught in the extension courses. There are classes in scholarship which are particularly beneficial to people in the stores, engaged in agriculture and engineering, which afford means of technical training to people who could not otherwise afford to get this vocational training which is so necessary to their welfare.

Notices have been sent out over the country that Jan. 24 has been designated as Child Labor Day, and that the celebration has been made possible through the co-operation of clergymen and school principals. So far as could be learned, however, Boston school committees have as yet taken no active step toward celebrating the day in the public schools. It is the idea of the National Child Labor Committee to seek legislation at Washington providing that manufactured goods to be shipped from one State to another where the labor of children has been used in the manufacture to an unreasonable extent.

The time for filing new bills in the Legislature has ended. In all, 1729 were entered, 1365 in the House and 355 in the Senate. This was 400 less than last year. Of the flood of late bills filed perhaps none created more comment than those of Chairman M. J. O'Leary of the Democratic State committee. Among his bills were: To provide for an automobile for the Governor, at an expense of not more than $10,000 annually. To increase the salary of the Lieutenant-Governor from $2900 to $5000 and to allow for a stenographer at $1500. To provide for a bonus of $3 for every sheep raised, up to 50, and $2 additional for every sheep up to 100. To provide for interchangeable mileage books. It has not been customary for the chairman of any of the political committees directly to father any piece of legislation, so that Chairman O'Leary's action has aroused comment because of the innovation, as well as because of the nature of the bills.

The Republican State Committee tonight will give the annual dinner to Republican members of the Legislature at the American House. To guard against a premature launching of the gubernatorial boom of Grafton D. Cushing, Chairman D. A. Thurston has provided that only members of the Legislature shall attend. The speakers will be President Calvin Coolidge, Speaker Charles H. Cox, Clarence W. Hobbs, Jr., of Worcester, chairman of railroads; Representative W. W. Kennard of Somerville, chairman of Judiciary and tribune leader of the House; Representative S. I. Collins of Amesbury and others.

POSTUM

Coffee contains a powerful irritant—caffeine—which first races the body functions to unnatural speed, and then leaves them in a state of exhaustion. Result—weak heart, nervousness, biliousness, headache, sleeplessness and many other ills and discomforts.

Postum—made only of prime wheat and a bit of whole cane molasses—is a pure food-drink, absolutely free from caffeine or any other drug or harmful substance.

Postum has delightful flavor, and comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be boiled, 15c and 25c packages; Instant Postum—soluble, made in the cup instantly, 30c and 50c tins. The cost per cup is about the same for both kinds.

Suppose you leave off coffee ten days and try Postum—and better health.

Section 1. The provisions of this act shall apply to the cities of Manchester, Nashua, Portsmouth, Laconia, Somersworth, Dover, and Berlin, and to the town of Exeter.

Section 2. The governor with the advice and consent of the council shall appoint three commissioners who shall have been residents of such city or town for which they are appointed five years immediately preceding the date of their appointment, one of whom shall hold office for six years from the date of appointment, one for four and one for two years and biennially thereafter in the month of January, the governor, with the advice and consent of the council, shall appoint one commissioner who shall serve for six years unless sooner removed as hereinafter provided. Any vacancy occurring in said board of commissioners shall be filled in the same manner. At no time shall more than two of said commissioners belong to one political party.

Section 3. The governor, with the advice and consent of the council, shall have full power to remove any commissioner at any time after a fair hearing and for just cause.

Section 4. The police force of said cities and town shall consist of a chief of police, an assistant chief of police and such other subordinate officers as the police commissioners shall designate together with such number of constables as may be necessary, each of said officers shall devote their whole time to their said duties and shall not be engaged in any other business or occupation, or hold any other office. Said commissioners are authorized to appoint such number of policemen as may be necessary for their respective cities or town; all of said officers shall be appointed by the police commissioners and shall serve during good behavior and while competent to discharge the duties of the office.

Section 5. The police commissioners shall have the right to remove any member of the police force at any time for good and sufficient cause after a due hearing and such cause shall be expressed in the order of removal. The police commissioners shall have full power to make all rules for the government of the police force and to enforce said rules either by suspension or expulsion from the force.

Section 6. Said board shall elect one of their number who shall act as chairman and one who shall act as clerk and keep a correct record of all proceedings, issue all notices and attest all such papers and orders as said board shall issue.

Section 7. The said commissioners shall make a detailed report of their doings annually to the governor in the month of January. The records of said board shall at all times be open to the inspection of the governor and any citizen of the cities or town for which said commissioners are appointed.

Section 8. The compensation of the commissioners shall be fixed by the cities or town for which they are appointed and the compensation of all members of the police force shall be fixed by the board of police commissioners from time to time as they see fit. At no time shall the total amount expended for the maintenance of said police force exceed the amount appropriated for that purpose by the cities or town.

Provided, however, that in case of emergency the police commissioners with the advice and consent of the mayor of cities or the selectmen of Exeter may exceed the amount of appropriation by such amount as the mayors or selectmen of Exeter may authorize.

Section 9. The police commissioners shall annually, in the month of February, file a statement with the cities and selectmen of Exeter, of the amount of money necessary to be appropriated for the maintenance of said department.

WHIST PARTY AND DANCE

Eureka Whist Club Has Pleasant Evening.

The Eureka Whist Club conducted a very enjoyable whist party and dance at N. D. O. P. Hall on Daniel street on Monday evening. Twenty-one tables were in play and the scores ran high. Mrs. Ethel Brown captured gentlemen's first prize, a gold tie clasp, and Mrs. A. C. Craig was awarded gentlemen's second, a bill-fold.

The ladies' first, a china cake plate, fell to Mrs. Thomas McCaffery; and second, a china toilet set to Mrs. B. Molloy.

Dancing followed until a late hour, Alexander Blinck furnishing the music. Refreshments of cake and coffee were served by the club girls. The club are planning to hold another party next month.

asked him questions which showed their appreciation of the subject.

Preceding this talk was a short business session of the Brotherhood, and a lunch was served at its conclusion. Mr. William Brille and Mr. James J. Smith were in charge of the refreshments.

"INDIANS" STUDIED AT CLASS MEETING

Middle St. Baptist Church Class Hold Regular Meeting and Social.

Sides, Mrs. Bert Sterling, Miss Annie Chapman, Mrs. Harry Caswell, Mrs. Baldwin Reich, and Mrs. Roy Dixon.

COAL ADVANCES IN BOSTON

No Advance in This City at Present, But Possible That One May Come.

Several Boston coal dealers advanced the price of certain grades of hard coal, 25¢ a ton on Monday. This is the third advance since last April. Increased freight rates and labor charges, according to the dealers, made the advance necessary.

Although an advance in the price of coal in the Boston market usually causes a similar advance in this city, the local dealers in conversation with a Herald reporter today, stated that it hasn't had any effect on the local market, up to the present time, but the probabilities are that it may.

Miss Helen Donahue, night supervisor at the Portsmouth hospital is enjoying a short visit at her home in Boston.

Police News.
Early morning house parties were in order after midnight on Monday which will be followed by police court this afternoon. The first soiree began at 2.35 a. m. on McDonough street when Patrick Driscoll got decidedly naughty and did his usual stunt of driving the family out in the cold morning air. Officer West rushed them back to their domicile and then rushed Driscoll to the constabulary.

The second plak tea opened up at 6.40 a. m. on Russell street. Wasseel Dennis was floor director and had it all his own way until officer Anderson was called. Dennis had handled something stronger than a "love pat" to his wife. She tried to hand the same thing to the cop and naturally the patrolman showed Wasseel he was in bad business. He was finally trotted up the line to await the hour when his better-half would arrive and tell the kind of love her husband exhibits after passing previous hours in the third parties.

YOUNG MEN'S GUILD MEETS.

The Young Men's Guild of the Middle street Baptist church met in the Guild room on Monday evening with a good attendance. A short business meeting was held, when it was voted to purchase a victrola.

Mr. Stewart Humphreys, president of the Guild, gave the members a very well arranged program when he presented Mr. Charles W. Gray, who possesses a very pleasing bass voice, in a repertoire of Irish ballads. Among the favorite songs, dear to the Irish heart, which Mr. Gray rendered, were noted, "Killarney," "Kathleen Mavourneen," "Wearing of the Green," "Rory O'More." Mr. Gray also gave a brief sketch of the composer's life and told circumstances under which the songs were written. Mr. Arthur M. Doolittle was the accompanist.

Refreshments of hot dogs, coffee, etc.

CONDITIONS AND WORK IN SCHOOLS OF PORTSMOUTH

Supt. of Schools Pringle Gives Talk Before Methodist Brotherhood.

James N. Pringle, Superintendent of Schools, was the guest of Good Will Chapter, Methodist Brotherhood on Monday evening and gave them an exceedingly interesting address. His remarks were in the form of an intimate talk on school work in general, with particular emphasis on conditions and work in the Portsmouth schools.

What he had to say regarding the very marked increase in the number of school children in the last few years was interesting, as was the fact which he stated that the percentage of average attendance of the total enrollment was distinctly large each year. He urged more interest and co-operation on the part of parents. The desire of the school authorities to equip children to render practical service to their own community was dwelt upon.

The audience was thoroughly interested in Mr. Pringle's talk and cream and cake were served, the refreshment committee consisting of Wallace Rand, chairman, and Carlton Badger.
